Participants need to be ready at 6:45 p.m. for line up, wearing the first garment that is to be modeled. If you have more than one garment to model, you will find out which garment you will model first at the rehearsal.

Fashion Revue

This is the procedure for Fashion Revue judging on July 24.

1. To enter, list Department, Fashion Revue on its own line on the Fair Entry form. Complete a narration form in Word, double spaced, and email it to Jo Ann Belk at csuramfans@msn.com by the fair entry deadline, July 15. If you are modeling more than one outfit and have a preference which one you would like to model first, please note that. We will do our best to honor your request but cannot guarantee the order. Send the Fair Entry form to the Fair Office at the Fairgrounds by July 15. Edits will be accepted up until the time of check-in on July 24. No edits will be accepted after check-in.
2. Accessories will be welcomed in the new county only class. Otherwise, all entries must be wearable garments in all other classes.
3. On the day of the contest, register and pick up your contestant number at the registration desk. Pin the number on your garment on the right lower side so it can be easily seen but will not affect the hang.
4. Be dressed and ready to line up at the time your group will be judged. Please discard any chewing gum and go to the bathroom before getting in line.
5. Line up for judging. Please line up in numerical sequence (example: 1, 2, 3, etc.). Adult and junior leaders are there to assist you.
6. The judges will look at all the contestants in a class as a group first. Form a semi-circle in the room facing the judge.
7. The judges will look at each of you individually after the group session. Move around the room in such a way so that the judges can view your garment from every angle. Wait at a central point of the room for instructions from the judge. Judges may ask you questions.
8. After individual judging you will go back once more in front of the judge for selection of unit junior, intermediate and senior champion.
9. When your unit is released, you must get your picture taken and can change out of your garment.
10. After all classes are judged, all contestants will have to be dressed again for selection of the GRAND CHAMPION AND RESERVE GRAND CHAMPION. You will be given a ten minute warning, so you will have enough time to redress. This judging will be done as a group. If you are not in attendance, you forfeit your opportunity to be selected for overall champion/reserve champion.
11. After the judges select Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion, each 4-Her will select their favorite fashion. An award will be given for pre-teen (junior/intermediate) and teen (senior).
12. Rehearsal is July 24 at McKee Building at The Ranch, at 4:00 p.m. Practice is to walk through narration and rehearsal. You must be there!
13. Remember the Public Fashion Show, July 24, McKee Building. Be ready at 6:45 p.m. We will have a changing room available.

Narration Form

Narration forms are required. NARRATION FORMS MUST BE IN BY JULY 15. This deadline is very important as final work on the Fashion Show cannot begin until the forms are in. The Fair entry form is sent or delivered to the Extension Office in the McKee Building by July 15 and the narration form is sent in a Word document, double spaced to Jo Ann Belk at csuramfans@msn.com

You may download a narration form at: <http://larimer.extension.colostate.edu/larimer-county-fair/>

Your narration must be a Word document. These forms are used by the Fashion Revue narrators as a guide to tell everyone about your garment and you. Some bits of information you may want to include:

Fiber Content	Color Choice
Fiber Design	Interesting facts
Pattern Style	Accessories
Where You Plan to Wear It	Interesting Information about yourself (year in school, # of years in 4-H, hobbies, etc.)
Why You Chose to Make It	Cost to Make/Cost to Purchase

Your narration must be between 100 and 150 words. The Fashion Revue Committee reserves the right to cut your narration if it is more than 150 words.

“This winter, Gracie Richards will be ready for the holiday season, wearing her favorite colors: hot pink and black. Gracie’s wool suit includes a jacket of 70% designer wool fabric. Ms. Richards has accented her jacket with pink lapels and a bow closure. Gracie chose a black, pinstripe wool for her skirt and camisole. The skirt is accentuated with a ruffle and pink bow. To make the ensemble a custom fit, Gracie used tailoring and dress making techniques. Gracie plans to wear this outfit to holiday gatherings and the 4-H Leadership Conference in June.

Gracie Richards is a junior at Horizon High School, where she is an active member of the swim team and the yearbook staff. Gracie enjoys being a member of the Ramblers 4-H Club, an officer in the Larimer County Junior Leader 4-H Club, and riding her horse.”

After studying the sample, practice writing your own. Vary your wording to make it interesting.

Sincerely,

Megan Blaser
